

Super Premium, Resin Enhanced Wax Thermal Ribbon — Best performance for specialty applications

Genuine AutoLabel™ UltraPrint Thermal Transfer Ribbon is a super premium, resin enhanced wax thermal ribbon that is designed for optimum printing performance in specialty applications. AutoLabel UltraPrint applies high-resolution graphics, text and bar codes, and is system-matched to run on Autobag® thermal transfer imprinters.*

UltraPrint ribbon features a unique, multi-layer construction with quick release and advanced binding properties that are ideal for overprinting on AutoGrafix™ inks. UltraPrint is also recommended for frequent scanning and handling applications, such as mailbags, due to its high resistance to scratching and abrasion. Superior density and contrast provide precision printing with excellent edge definition.

UltraPrint ribbon features SPECTR™, an innovative static elimination system that completely removes static, and repels harmful contaminants that can damage print heads. The patent pending SPECTR formula is inside the ink, not used as a back coating, protecting equipment and operators from electrostatic discharge.

Using AutoLabel UltraPrint Thermal Transfer Ribbon, along with Autobag Print-n-Pack™ Systems and genuine Autobag brand bags-on-a-roll, provides a complete and cost-effective packaging solution.

Features & Benefits

- Unique, multi-layer binding and release technology for optimum overprint quality and abrasion resistance
- Superior density, contrast and edge definition for printing high-resolution graphics, text and bar codes
- SPECTR static elimination system protects equipment from electrostatic discharge
- System-matched with Autobag packaging machines and materials for optimum performance
- Manufactured under ISO 9001/2008 certified processes to ensure consistent quality
- One-year guaranteed shelf-life when properly stored
- Professional applications support for custom solutions
- Roll sizes include 2000' lengths in widths of 2", 2½", 3", 3½" and 4"

Typical Applications

- Shipping and address labels
- AutoGrafix inline overprinting
- Automated routing and material handling labeling
- Product identification and bar code labeling for retail and industrial markets
- Shrink wrap labeling
- All applications requiring moderate to high resistance to abrasion

Systems Advantage™ Members may qualify for print head replacement discounts when using premium AutoLabel ribbon*
